Food & Drink 2015

Celebrating Outstanding Success

Food and drink is Northern Ireland's biggest and most successful industry. It's an industry which is projected to generate around £5 billion for the local economy this year. It is a major exporter of premium quality and innovative products to over 80 countries worldwide.

Indeed over 60% of Northern Ireland food and drink is currently exported.

Food and drink in Northern Ireland has won international acclaim for outstanding food and drink over many years.

Northern Ireland is now among the biggest suppliers of food and drink to all retail sectors in Great Britain and the Republic of Ireland as well as most foodservice organisations in both markets.

Award Winning Flavours

The quality and innovation that has long underpinned Northern Ireland food and drink has led to many international awards especially, for outstanding taste.

These include the prestigious Great Taste Awards organised annually by the UK Guild of Fine Food, the Blas na hÉireann (Irish Food Awards), the Irish Quality Food and Drink Awards and the Quality Food and Drink Awards.

Great Taste Awards 2015

Northern Ireland companies have been among the most successful in the United Kingdom and Ireland in the Great Taste Awards over the past five years. In 2015, for instance, 70 Northern Ireland companies secured almost 200 gold stars.

Year of Food and Drink 2016

Northern Ireland's Year of Food and Drink 2016 will celebrate everything that makes the produce from Northern Ireland so good. The picturesque landscapes, time-honoured traditions, people and dedicated producers that make our food heritage wonderfully unique will be showcased in a comprehensive programme of activities in Northern Ireland and abroad.

They will demonstrate that Northern Ireland is producing some of the world's finest and freshest ingredients - from iconic breads to seafood, spirits and meat.

The key objectives for Year of Food 2016 are to:

- Enhance the reputation of Northern Ireland's food offering
- Celebrate Northern Ireland's food culture
- Dial up existing events and revive tired events
- Tell our stories (produce, places and people)
- Provide new opportunities for food linked experiences
- Develop the quality of our food offering
- Increase visitor satisfaction (with food and drink amongst visitors to Northern Ireland)

Among targets of the year-long campaign is an increase in export sales to around £30 million.

Each month is set to have its own theme from January to December celebrating Northern Ireland food and drink. These will be:

January: Breakfast Month
February: Love Local
March: Heritage and Traditions
April: Brewing and Distilling
May: Landscape and Places
June: Love Dairy
July: Seas, Rivers and Loughs
August: Love Northern Ireland Meat
September: Bread and Baking
October: Harvest
November: Legacy and Learn
December: Christmas and Premium Foods

The focus on the industry will inspire trade growth and visitor spend as well as boosting Northern Ireland's destination reputation for tourists by putting food and drink at the heart of the tourism experience.

Part of the vision for the year is to celebrate the quality, innovation, creativity and entrepreneurship to be found across the globally competitive Food and Drink industry.

Dale Farm

Fivemiletown Ballyoak

Hand made with care, each individual truckle is slowly smoked in our kiln using sustainably foraged oakwood from the local and enchanting Forest of Caledon. Plumes of aromatic smoke circulate around the cheese and impart a wonderfully smoky flavour to the silky, butter-like texture of the soft cheese. This also gives a rich rustic crust that looks beautiful on any cheeseboard.
